Paul, Leslie, I sent you a email earlier this week requesting another extension on the three directives. It doesn't sound like you got it. Anyway the appellant can file another appeal in district court to challenge the attached decision if they file by Oct. 5th. So if they do then this Grsndfathered issue could string out for several more month. If they don't then it would be reasonable to have the submit tala ready by Dec30th. We would therefore request an extension to Dec. 30th. We appreciate your consideration of this request. Brent Sumsion

I apologize for not previously responding to your extension request though I didn't get the first one. The Division approves the request but asks that you make every effort to have it done by the new deadline of December 30, 2016. The outstanding directives are to provide an updated reclamation cost estimate, to reclaim the area in the area where the radio towers were located, and to include the area on the radio tower hill as part of the disturbed area. The Division received an amendment to include this disturbance but found it deficient.
